Industry : Roger Ebert 19864 : Film criticism is the analysis and evaluation of films. In general, these works can be divided into two categories: academic criticism by film scholars and journalistic film criticism that appears regularly in newspapers and other media. Film critics working for newspapers, magazines, and broadcast media mainly review new releases. Normally they only see any given film once and have only a day or two to formulate their opinions. Despite this, critics have an important impact on the audience response and attendance at films, especially those of certain genres. Mass marketed action, horror, and comedy films tend not to be greatly affected by a critics overall judgment of a film. The plot summary and description of a film and the assessment of the directors and screenwriters work that makes up the majority of most film reviews can still have an important impact on whether people decide to see a film. For prestige films such as most dramas and art films, the influence of reviews is important. Poor reviews from leading critics at major papers and magazines will often reduce audience interest and attendance.

Other major films have postponed releases in certain countries. The Pixar film Onward, released on the opening March weekend, was not opened in the areas most affected by the coronavirus outbreak while cinemas were closed in China, it also chose not to open in South Korea, Italy or Japan.⁹⁰ Other March 2020 releases A Quiet Place Part II and Mulan postponed their releases in affected areas, too. This prompted worry that, should March film openings underperform, blockbusters set for release in May specifically DisneyMarvels

Black Widow and Universal's F9 would move their dates later in the calendar.¹⁸⁷ Mulan not opening in China, where it aimed to make most of its money, was particularly concerning,⁹¹ especially with the possibility that pirate copies will appear and prevent Chinese moviegoers from going to see it in cinemas when it is released.⁹ Comparatively, A Quiet Place Part II had not anticipated a large Chinese draw, as the box office for the first film in the country was only 10% of its total.⁷

Early home media releases The 2019 film Frozen II was originally planned to be released on Disney+ on June 26, 2020, before it was moved up to March 15. Disney CEO Bob Chapek explained that this was because of the film's powerful themes of perseverance and the importance of family, messages that are incredibly relevant.¹³⁵¹³⁶ On March 16, 2020, Universal announced that The Invisible Man, The Hunt, and Emma – all films in theaters at the time – would be available through premium video on demand as early as March 20 at a suggested price of US$.99 each.¹³⁷ After suffering poor box office since its release at the start of March, Onward was made available to purchase digitally on March 21, and was added to Disney+ on April 3.¹³⁸ Paramount announced on March 20, Sonic the Hedgehog is also planning to have an early release to video on demand, on March 31.¹³⁹¹⁴⁰ On March 16, Warner Bros. announced that Birds of Prey would be released early to video on demand on March 24.¹⁴¹ Three days later, the studio then announced that The Way Back would also be available on video on demand the same date as Birds of Prey.¹⁴² On April 3, Disney announced that Artemis Fowl, a film adaptation of the 2001 novel of the same name, would be released straight to Disney+ on June 12, skipping a theatrical release entirely.¹⁴³¹⁴⁴
